PREFACE.

THE thirteen sectional parts of this volume have already been issued separately, and are now presented collectively, accompanied by a General Index covering the subjects treated. Every care has been taken to keep the work free from errors; but if any have escaped detection it would be deemed a favour if their nature were indicated.

The figures should be read in conjunction with the "Official Year Book of New South Wales."

The Government Statistician wishes to express his thanks to the Commonwealth Statistician, to the responsible officers of the various State and Commonwealth Departments, and to others, who have kindly supplied all desired information, often at considerable trouble.

Bureau of Statistics,
Sydney, 30th January, 1920.

NOTE.—The figures quoted above represent the population of New South Wales within its present boundaries. Victoria was separated from New South Wales on the 1st July, 1851, and Queensland on the 10th December, 1859. The Federal Capital area of Yass-Canberra was transferred to the Commonwealth on 1st January, 1911.

Aborigines.—Aborigines are included in the totals for the last five Censuses. The numbers included were 983 in 1871, 1,643 in 1884, 2,280 in 1891, 4,287 in 1901, and 2,022 in 1911.

* The population of the Federal Capital area (997 males, 727 females, 1,724 persons) is included.

No. 2.—Population of Metropolis at each Census, 1861–1911.

NOTE.—Census information will be found in the Statistical Register, 1911–16.

Time Ball.—The Time Ball at the Sydney Observatory is dropped every day at 1 p.m. Standard Time. The Time Ball at Newcastle is controlled by signals from the Sydney Observatory.

Standard Time.—The mean time of the 150th meridian of longitude east of Greenwich, England, is the Standard Time throughout New South Wales, with the exception of the area within the Municipal District of Broken Hill and the Electorate of Sturt, for which the mean time of the 135th meridian of east longitude is adopted.

Position of Sydney Observatory.—Latitude, 33° 51′ 41·1″ south; longitude, 151° 12′ 23·10″ east; altitude, 144 feet.

Thermometers.—The thermometers are exposed in a shed 11 feet square, of which the sides are 5 feet 6 inches high, and enclosed to within about 30 inches of the ground with open lattice-work. The roof is conical, rises to 13 feet above the ground, and is covered with louvres close enough to keep out rain.

Rain-gauge.—The rain-gauges are circular, 8 inches in diameter, and with rim 15 inches above ground. Two similar gauges, placed on the ground 6 feet apart, are used; the larger record is taken. The pluviometer results are from a gauge of the same diameter as the rain-gauge, 4 feet above ground.

No. 17.—Meteorological Conditions—New South Wales—1917.

During the year 1917, with the exception of some deficiencies in sections of the coastal area, the rainfall generally was above the average. The comparative records show that the spring was exceptionally wet, while the summer, autumn, and winter were less so in the order named. The principal periods of dryness occurred in the winter months over the coastal districts, but in the second half of the year the Murray and the Murrumbidgee Rivers, and similarly the north coastal rivers, were subject to prolonged flooding. As regards weather conditions generally, there was great variation. In addition to the serious floods to which reference has been made, there were heat waves, cold waves (rather pronounced during the spring months), notable rainstorms, snow and wind storms, and dry periods. On the whole, the temperature was below normal—from one to slightly more than two degrees.

Particulars for each month are as follow :—

January.—The chief feature was the prevalence of monsoonal influences which were productive of frequent and severe thunderstorms, accompanied by abundant rainfall over the greater part of the State. The falls were particularly heavy in parts of the tablelands, and at places in the northern and central coastal regions. Glen Innes received 9 inches, or more than double the usual amount. Tenterfield, Katoomba, Lawson, Tweed Heads, Casino, and Newcastle received falls in excess of 7 inches. For a few areas the rainfall was below the average, notably parts of the south and north coasts, and small sections of some of the other divisions. During the latter part of the month the coastal and central districts benefited through the agency of southerly winds, which brought useful falls of rain.

A severe heat wave occurred, and temperatures exceeding 100 degrees were common, the maximum being 115 degrees—at Bourke. Notwithstanding this wave, temperatures generally were below the average, due to cloudy conditions and the frequency of southerly winds.

February.—The inland districts received an abundant rainfall, the greater portion of the area west of the mountains participating in amounts which exceeded the average. In some of the western rivers floods were experienced, partly as the result of storms beyond the Queensland border. The heaviest downpours occurred in the district of the Central Tableland, whilst the shortages were confined mainly to parts of the seaboard.

March.—The weather, on the whole, was remarkably dry, and quite in contrast with the abundant rainfall experienced for several months previously. Almost throughout the State the rainfall was deficient, and over extensive areas of the Western Division no rain whatever was recorded. In the north-east and on parts of the coastal area, however, favourable rains were received, and at a few scattered places surpluses occurred.

April.—The weather conditions were very similar to those of the preceeding month, with light rains inland and heavier falls on the coast. The coastal storms, however, were much more severe and persistent than in March, and resulted in substantial rains over the coastal area and the Blue Mountain district. Westward from the mountains the totals were exceedingly low ; at many stations no rain whatever occurred. Unfortunately, very scanty rains were received over the Wheat Belt, the registrations being much below the average. The weather generally was marked by mild days and cold nights, with occasional squally conditions on the coast.

May.—The rainfall was exceptionally poor, and much below the average over almost the whole of the State. Early in the month the southern area, including portions of the South Coast and the Southern Tableland, benefited to some extent by Antarctic rainstorms, and at several stations the total falls exceeded the average. Extensive areas in the districts adjoining the Queensland border, west of the mountains, and the central and north coastal regions especially, experienced throughout a very dry period. On account of the prevalence of so much fine weather, the temperatures on the whole were most varied and trying, many day readings of over 80 degrees being recorded, while night registrations of less than freezing point were frequent.

June.—Most beneficial rains were experienced west of the mountains, with the gratifying result that the dry conditions of the previous months over the western and north-western pastoral districts were broken entirely. A severe rainstorm occurred in the valley of the Murray River, and caused extensive floods on that river and its tributaries, the total registration at Albury (623 points) being the heaviest in the State. In the coastal districts the rain generally was light, the exception being the Metropolis, where 526 points were recorded.

July.—Splendid rains, exceeding the average, were recorded at most places in the State, the falls on parts of the South-Western Slope and the Southern Tableland being exceptionally heavy. The Murray River Valley experienced a repetition of the previous month's floods, but in the coastal districts generally dry conditions prevailed, the light rainfall being deficient almost everywhere. Snowstorms occurred on the Central and Southern Tablelands, and the temperature generally was low, two severe cold waves being experienced.

August.—Varied weather conditions were experienced, the chief features being fine and cold periods, rainstorms, strong westerly winds, and snowstorms. Light to heavy general rains occurred in the southern district, and the rivers in that area rose to such an extent that flood level was exceeded at some centres during the first week of the month. The falls recorded throughout the southern half of the State, in the districts west of the mountains, and at a few isolated places in the north-eastern districts, were in excess of the average. In the northern and coastal areas the rain was generally light and scattered, and elsewhere the falls, on the whole, were deficient. Snowstorms occurred on the Central and Southern Highlands during the first and third weeks.

September.—In the first week rather acute dryness, due to the predominance of westerly winds, was experienced in all parts of the State, except on the Southern Highlands. During the remaining period the weather conditions were characterised by the frequency of monsoonal storms, which resulted in substantial rains, exceeding the average almost generally. Many heavy falls were registered, and in some instances they ranged from 7 to over 10 inches. In the third week a violent storm, accompanied by heavy rain, visited the coastal area, and caused considerable damage, especially in the Metropolis. The temperature during the first three weeks varied considerably, being marked by frequent cold spells, which changed eventually to advanced spring weather conditions.

October.—The rainfall was above the average practically throughout the State, the exception being the districts embracing the north-eastern quarter, in which the shortages generally were unimportant. Serious floods occurred on various sections of the Murray River, resulting in extensive damage to property. The temperatures registered were, on the whole, most varied.

November.—Following the excessively moist conditions of the two previous months, the weather experienced throughout the State was persistently unsettled, with an extraordinary succession of rainstorms, which made the month one of the wettest on record. All stations received substantial falls, much in excess of normal. At places on the North Coast the heavy rains caused serious floods and damage to property. Severe gales and rough seas were reported along the coast.

December.—Extensive areas in the north-eastern half of the State received rain in excess of the average, more particularly on the north-eastern and central northern border districts, but over other parts of the State the falls generally were light. At a few stations temperatures exceeding 100 degrees were registered, but on the whole the weather was mild to warm and seasonable.

* The figures in this column represent distinct children who have attended a State school the whole or some portion of the year, children who may have received instruction at more than one State school during the year being counted only once.

† The enrolment of scholars and the average daily attendance being determined for each quarter of the year, an average of the four quarters is taken, and the result is as stated.

‡ These figures include children temporarily absent from illness or other causes, but excludes those who are known to have left school.

Religious Instruction.—Under the Public Instruction Act (43 Vic. No. 23), which came into force on 1st May, 1880, it is provided that the instruction imparted at Public Schools must be absolutely unsectarian. "Secular instruction" is defined by the Act as including "general religious teaching as distinguished from dogmatical or polemical theology." Provision is made for authorised teachers of any denomination to give religious instruction at specified hours to the scholars belonging to their religion, and separate class rooms are provided generally for this purpose. The total number of visits paid to State schools during 1917 by authorised teachers was 65,046, namely :—Church of England, 34,349 ; Roman Catholic, 1,584 ; Presbyterian, 8,411 ; Methodist, 13,368 ; other denominations, 7,334.

Subsidised Schools.—Subsidies are granted only in the case of children resident in thinly-populated country districts, so far removed from any Public School that attendance is impracticable. The conditions are that where a private teacher is engaged by two or more families in combination, or by a single family with not less than four children of school age, such teacher, if approved by the Minister, may be paid subsidy as follows :—

> "In the Eastern portion of the State at the rate of £5 per pupil per annum on the average monthly attendance, such aid not to exceed £50 yearly, and in the Western portion of the State, £6 per pupil per annum, not exceeding the sum of £60 yearly. The Western portion of the State shall be that portion within which living allowances are granted to Officers under the Public Service Board."

Subsidy may be paid also to a parent as an aid towards the boarding of the children with friends or relatives in a township for the purpose of attending a Public School, at the rate of 6d. per day in the Eastern Division of the State, for each full day's attendance, up to a maximum of £5 per child, per annum, and at the rate of 7d. per day, up to a maximum of £6 per child, per annum, in the Western Division of the State.

Superior Public Schools.—In addition to the above Superior Public (Day Continuation) Schools, established in 1912, there are other Public Schools entitled to the designation "Superior" by having at least 20 pupils eligible to join a fifth class. In these schools, the course of work in English History, Geography, Mathematics, Elementary Science, Drawing, and Manual Work, is that prescribed for the first and second year's course in the High School syllabus. The course of study does not include languages other than English, except under specified conditions. No statistics of this latter type of school are available.

The Teachers' College, Sydney, provides various courses preparing teachers for positions as rural school teachers, primary, kindergarten, and secondary school assistant teachers. Courses range from six months—for rural school teachers—to three and four year courses, leading to graduation in Arts or Science. In addition to academic work at the College, students are given practical work in the Demonstration Schools at Blackfriars, North Newtown, and Darlington, and at selected supplementary practice schools.

Under its Charter, the University of Sydney may confer, after examination, degrees in arts, law, and medicine; but not in theology and divinity. Graduates of Sydney University rank equally with graduates of British Universities.

Under the Act of 1884 women have all University privileges; and degrees may be granted to women in all branches of knowledge.

Faculties.—There are now four Faculties: Arts, Law, Medicine, and Science. A Dean is appointed by the Senate to each Faculty from time to time for a term not exceeding two years. There are also Departments of Engineering, Dentistry, Veterinary Science, Agricultural Science, Economics and Commerce, Architecture, and Military Science.

Museum Library.—The library attached to the Australian Museum contains many valuable works of reference. Presentations are continually received. Although essentially a scientific library for the use of the staff, it is accessible to students under very reasonable restrictions. It contains about 22,500 volumes. The Museum publications consist of Catalogues and Records, the latter containing papers by the staff on current scientific work connected with the Institution.

* Prior to 1909 one wine distillery is included ; in 1909 and after two are included.

NOTE.—In addition to the quantity of white spirit shown above as distilled from wine, 9,007 gallons were distilled by vignerons during 1917–18. Altogether during that year 120,940 gallons of wine were distilled by vignerons and at distilleries to produce 19,192 gallons of white spirit.

The greater part of the white spirit distilled from molasses is rectified or methylated. Of the remainder, part is used for making rum, and part for fortifying vinegar, perfumes, &c.

In 1917–18 of the 10,185 gallons of white spirit distilled from wine, 6,070 gallons was used for fortifying purposes, and the 4,115 gallons for making brandy.

During 1917-18 the following quantities of spirits were manufactured :—Brandy, 4,115 gallons ; rectified spirits, 714,101 gallons ; methylated spirits, 892,637 gallons.

No. 54.—Rates of Wages in Various Industries, June, 1918.

The Minimum Rates of Wages, as shown in the following tables, have been fixed by awards of the Court of Industrial Arbitration and the Industrial Boards of New South Wales, or, in the case of a few industries, by awards or agreements under the Commonwealth Conciliation and Arbitration Acts. In relation to certain domestic and rural occupations and the coal-mining industry, average rates have been stated; the former do not come within the scope of any industrial award, and in the latter, wages are fixed under the War Precautions Act.

The rates relate to the metropolitan district except in the following cases:—the mining and shipping industries, agricultural and pastoral pursuits, and several important works situated in country districts, for which special awards have been made, viz., the Portland Cement Works, the Lithgow Iron Works, the Newcastle Steel Works, and the Cockle Creek Smelting Works.

Hours of Work.—The normal working week is forty-eight hours, except where otherwise specified.

* The figures quoted represent the area on which the balance of purchase-money was paid during the year, and consequently average price per acre cannot be given.

Surrenders, Exchanges, and Road Resumptions.—Surrenders and exchanges are effected under Sections 195, 196, 197 of the Crown Lands Consolidation Act, 1913, and Road Resumptions are treated under the Public Roads Act, 1902. As land is exchanged for land without any monetary consideration the extent of the area of Crown Lands is not thereby affected.

Resumptions and Purchases.—The total alienations represent the gross area, no allowance being made for the gifts of land and the resumptions and direct purchases made from private owners on behalf of the various departments, for particulars of which see Table No. 44.

Land acquired by the State.—Land may be acquired by resumption, purchase, exchange, surrender, and by gift. Resumptions are made under the Public Works Act and the Lands for Public Purposes Acquisition Act. All resumptions, other than those made by the Minister of Public Instruction and the Commissioners for Railways, are treated by the Government Land Valuer. Resumptions under the Commonwealth Lands Acquisition Act, 1906, are also included.

NOTE.—Under the Closer Settlement Promotion Acts, three or more intending settlers, or any one or more discharged soldiers, within the meaning of the Returned Soldiers Settlement (Amendment) Act, 1917, each possessing the qualifications necessary to hold a settlement purchase, may enter into negotiations for the purchase of suitable land in their own district or localities where they may wish to settle, and each person must hold his farm solely in his own interests and not on any system of co-operation with the other applicants. Each applicant is required to lodge a deposit of £5, and any further sum required to meet costs of dealing with his application, survey, &c. The next cost is 6½ per cent. of the Crown valuation of the farm, the other 93½ per cent. being advanced by the Government Savings Bank; thereafter, annual instalments of 6½ per cent. (being 5½ per cent. interest and 1 per cent. capital) must be paid until the whole indebtedness is discharged in thirty-two years.

Capital value	100
Deposit	5
Annual instalment	6½
Interest on unpaid balance	5½ per cent. per annum.

It is competent for an applicant to pay two or more instalments at any time, should he so desire. Provision is made for postponement of one or two instalments on application to the Minister, which may be granted, should it be decided that the circumstances warrant it. An applicant may obtain from the Government Savings Bank an advance on the value of improvements which may have been effected on the farm by the settler.

* This total of 116,833,721 acres is that obtained from the returns of occupiers of land. According to the Lands Department, the total area of Crown Lands leased (excluding mining leases and permissive occupancies) on 30th June, 1918, was less than this area by 2,642,000 acres. A considerable allowance must be made on account of leases cancelled after the returns had been collected. † This part of County is in the Western Land Division.

NOTE.—Large holdings extending into more than one county are returned in the county where the homestead is situated.

Legislative Council.—A maximum number of members of the Legislative Council is not fixed by the Constitution Act. In December, 1917 the number of members was seventy-one. Members receive no allowance for expenses, but travel free over the Government railways and tramways in the State. The President of the Legislative Council receives a salary of £750 per annum, and the Chairman of Committees £470 per annum.

Legislative Assembly.—New South Wales is divided into ninety electorates, each of which is represented by one member in the Legislative Assembly. The Legislative Assembly continues for three years from the day of the return of the writs of election unless dissolved by the Governor. Each member (except when holding an office of profit under the Crown as a Minister, Speaker, or Chairman of Committees) is entitled to receive the sum of £500 per annum (Parliamentary Representatives' Allowance Act, 1912) by way of reimbursement for expenses incurred in the discharge of Parliamentary duties. Members travel free over the Government railways and tramways in the State, and are provided with official stamped envelopes for the free transmission of correspondence through the post. The Speaker of the Legislative Assembly receives a salary of £1,000 per annum, and the Chairman of Committees £740 per annum.

* Under the Fire Brigades Act of 1909, which came into operation on 1st January, 1910, the responsibilities of all the fire brigades in the State were transferred to the Board of Fire Commissioners of New South Wales. The revenue of the country fire brigades is derived from contributions from the Government, the municipal or shire councils interested in the respective fire districts, and the fire insurance companies insuring property within such districts, in the proportion of one-third each, and this sum represents practically the expenditure for the year

† There were in addition 28 chimney fires and 45 false alarms

NOTE.—Particulars include estates administered by the Public Trustee.

Gross and Net Value of Estates.—The figures from the Probate Court and from the Stamp Duties Department (see Part "Public Finance") relating to transactions in the estates of deceased persons do not agree. The Court gives the gross value of the estates, and includes those estates which, after investigation, are found not to be subject to duty. The number of petitions is also swollen by probates and letters of administration on some estates being taken out a second time. The amount given by the Stamp Duties Department represents the net value of the estates.

* In 1914 one Decree for Jactitation was granted, not included in the Table.

NOTE.—Included in the petitions in formâ pauperis during 1915, there were—nullity of marriage, 1; judicial separations, 3; and restitution of conjugal rights, 13; in 1916—nullity of marriage, 2; and restitution of conjugal rights, 15; in 1917—nullity of marriage, 2; judicial separation, 1; and restitution of conjugal rights, 14.

Prior to the passing of the Matrimonial Causes Act of 1873, the Supreme Court of New South Wales had no jurisdiction in divorce. Under that Act the chief grounds for divorce were adultery since marriage on the part of the wife, and adultery and cruelty on the part of the husband. The present Act was passed in 1892, and during 1893 there was an amending Act. Under these Acts petitions for divorce may be granted for the following causes, in addition to those already mentioned :—

Husband v. Wife.—Desertion, or habitual drunkenness and neglect of domestic duties for three years; refusal to obey an order for restitution of conjugal rights; imprisonment for three years and upwards; attempt to murder or inflict grievous bodily harm, or repeated assaults and cruel beatings during one year preceding the date of the filing of the petition.

Wife v. Husband.—Adultery and desertion for two years; desertion, or habitual drunkenness, with neglect to support and cruelty, for three years; refusal to obey an order for restitution of conjugal rights; imprisonment for three years and upwards; imprisonment under sentences aggregating three years, within a quinquennial period; attempt to murder, or to inflict grievous bodily harm, or repeated assaults and cruel beatings within one year of petition. In order to obtain relief on any of these grounds, the petitioner must have been domiciled in the State for three years and upwards at the time of instituting the suit.

Nullity of Marriage.—Petitions may be granted in cases of marriages which are void by the law of the land; where some statutory requirements have not been observed; or in which one of the parties is incapable to perform the duties of marriage, or has been joined in the marriage ceremony through coercion, or threats; also on the ground of mental incapacity.

Judicial Separation.—In addition to the principal causes for which a divorce may be obtained, judicial separation may be granted for desertion without cause for not less than two years.

Restitution of Conjugal Rights.—Before a suit may be brought, there must have been a request of a conciliatory character to the other party to return to cohabitation.

NOTE.—Prior to 1st July, 1911, there was a Vice-Admiralty Court (appointed by the Admiralty) consisting of the Chief Justice as Judge Commissary, and with him was associated a Puisne Judge of the Supreme Court as Deputy Judge. On that date the Vice-Admiralty Court ceased to exist, and the Supreme Court became a Colonial Court of Admiralty, with power to hear and determine matters previously determined in the Vice-Admiralty Court.

Cases in which the Court found that no one was to blame	4	Mate exonerated	1

Courts of Marine Inquiry.—In respect of British ships, these Courts hear and determine inquiries as to wrecks and other shipping casualties, or as to charges of incompetency or misconduct on the part of masters, mates, or engineers. Appeals and references under the Navigation Act (No. 60, 1901) are also heard and determined. One or more District Court Judges constitute a Court of Marine Inquiry, and the Court is assisted by the assessors appointed under the said Act, but such assessors have power only to advise and not to adjudicate on any matter before the Court.

* Calender, year 1917.

NOTE.—The Industrial Arbitration Act, 1901, provided for the registration and incorporation of Industrial Unions, for making and enforcing industrial agreements, and for the constitution of a Court of Arbitration for the hearing and determination of industrial disputes and matters referred to it. The Court was composed of a Judge of the Supreme Court, with one representative each of employers and employees. Under the Industrial Arbitration (Temporary Court) Act, 1905, a Judge of the District Court was made President of the Court.

The Industriul Disputes Act of 1908 preserved the results of the working of the Court of Arbitration. This Act was operative up to and including the 17th April, 1912, when it was superseded by the Industrial Arbitration Act of 1912. The conditions of trade may be settled voluntarily by an industrial agreement or compulsorily through the medium of the Industrial or Wages Boards, and the Industrial Court.

Appeals.—The right of appeal may be exercised only in causes in which the amount claimed exceeds £10, and the appeal must be made either on points of law or in respect of the admission or rejection of evidence.

Causes tried by Jury.—In all actions where the amount claimed exceeds £20, the Judge may order, or the plaintiff or defendant may demand, that a Jury be summoned, by giving notice to the Registrar of the Court.

Number of District Courts.—At the end of the year 1917 there were 69 District Courts in the State, and 8 District Court Judges.

Garnishee Cases.—Upon the ex parte application of any creditor who has obtained a judgment, the Court may order that all debts due by a third person (the garnishee) to the defendant, except in the cases of wages or salary at £2 per week or under, shall be attached to meet the judgment debt; and, by a subsequent order, may direct the garnishee to pay as much of the amount owing by him as will be sufficient to satisfy the judgment debt. In cases where wages or salary exceed £2 per week, an order may be made only for the amount of wages or salary in excess of that amount. The total cases in 1917 numbered 1,275.

Interpleader Cases.—When a claim is made to goods held under a writ of execution by a person not party to the suit, the Court may decide the claim, upon application by the bailiff. There were 27 cases in 1917.

Examination of Judgment Debtors.—On the application of a judgment creditor, the Court may order the judgment debtor to be orally examined as to any debts due to him. The cases in 1917 numbered 1,024.

Special Cases from Courts of Petty Sessions must be brought, in the first instance, before the Judge sitting in Public Chambers, who is vested with the authority and jurisdiction of the Supreme Court and who may refer such cases to the Full Court. Land Appeal Cases and cases under Local Government Act, 1906, are set down for argument before the Full Court only. Special Cases from Wardens' Courts are brought, in the first instance, before the Judge sitting in Public Chambers, unless both parties consent to place their case before the Full Court. The Judge may refer any such case to the Full Court.

Street-trading Licenses.—The Neglected Children and Juvenile Offenders Act, 1905, which came into force during October, 1905, provides for the licensing of children engaged in street-trading. Badges are worn during the time of such trading. Only boys between 12 and 16 years may be licensed; the hours of trading are from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. for boys under 14 years, and from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. for boys over 14 years. Girls under 16 years of age are prohibited from trading. Boys of school age may not trade within school hours. Playing, singing, or performing for profit are permitted only in the case of boys over 14 years of age.

Theatre Licenses.—The Children's Protection Act, 1902, prevents children from taking part in public exhibitions or performances whereby the lives or limbs of such children are endangered. Where, however, it is shown that proper provision has been made for the health and kind treatment of children to be employed at premises licensed for public entertainments, children over 7 years of age may be granted licenses under restrictions and conditions. These licenses may be rescinded at any time.

Sums secured by Lien on Wool and by Mortgage of Sheep.—When any sum has been secured, both by a lien on the wool and by a mortgage of the sheep, the amount is included under the head of mortgages only.

In 1917 the gross amount lent on liens was £845,567; but from this has to be deducted the sum of £144,960 secured both by lien on the wool and mortgage on the sheep, so that the net amount lent on lien was £700,607.

Mortgages on Wool and Crops discharged.—Liens on wool and on growing crops mature at the end of each season, and terminate without formal discharge. During 1917 there were 12 formal discharges of wool liens registered, representing £13,275.

NOTE.—In addition to the inebriates shown in the returns, all of whom were dealt with under the provision of the Inebriates Act, 1912, 11 males and 5 females were admitted to Shaftesbury Institution as voluntary patients, and they paid for their maintenance while inmates of such institution. Of these, 4 males were remaining on 31st December, 1917.

The Inebriates Act.—The Inebriates Act, 1912, provides for the special control and treatment of inebriates. Where a person has been convicted of an offence of which drunkenness is a component; or of assaulting women, cruelty to children, attempted suicide, or wilful damage to property, and it appears that drunkenness was a contributing cause of such offence, a Stipendiary or Police Magistrate may order that such offender be placed for a period of twelve months in a State Institution established by the Governor for the treatment of inebriates. On the order of a Judge, or of the Master-in-Lunacy, such period may be extended for further periods not exceeding twelve months each. Where a person has, after 9th September, 1909, been discharged from a State institution, or released on license, or discharged on recognizances, and within twelve months thereafter has been convicted of an offence of which drunkenness is a component, and has subsequently and during the said twelve months been charged with any offence, as herein mentioned, the Court may order him to be placed in a State Institution for a period not exceeding three years. Inmates are employed in remunerative and useful occupations.

Punishments inflicted on Prisoners for breaches of discipline.—During 1917, about 1·1 per cent. of the prisoners received punishment, and the offences were generally of a trivial character. There have been no floggings, ironings, or other severe forms of punishment, and the dark cells were abolished some years ago. Gaol Libraries.—The Gaol Libraries contain 24,282 carefully-selected volumes for recreation and instruction of prisoners aftter working hours

First Offenders.—Under the provisions of the Crimes Act of 1900, as regards any person who has not been convicted previously of an indictable offence in New South Wales or elsewhere (in so far as is known to the Court) and is convicted of a minor offence, and is sentenced upon such conviction to penal servitude or imprisonment, the Court may suspend the sentence upon the offender entering into a recognizance, with or without sureties, to be of good behaviour for the period of such sentence if for twelve months or over; or, if under twelve months, then to be of good behaviour for the full period of twelve months.

Children Released after Conviction.—The Neglected Children and Juvenile Offenders Act, 1905, provides that where a child is summarily convicted of an offence entailing imprisonment, the Court may release the child on probation upon such conditions as may seem befitting. For the number of cases in which this applied, see Children's Courts, Table 84.

* This part of County is in the Western Land Division.

NOTE.—The females engaged in farming, according to the foregoing table, number 8,161, and in dairying 15,938. The great majority of these (probably 4,000 in agriculture and 12,000 in dairying) were only partly employed, the rest of their time being devoted to domestic duties. The census 1911 shows 1,796 women engaged in agriculture and 3,106 in dairying.

* This column indicates the holdings (for whatever purpose used) on which there was cultivation, however slight. † Since 1909 the figures have been compiled on a slightly different basis to that followed in previous years. The information now obtained is more extensive, and the figures represent the actual growers of fruit, no matter how small the area cultivated.

‡ Wine grapes were grown on 240 holdings, and Table grapes were grown on 1,170 holdings.

NOTE.—There were 9,874 holdings on which orchard fruit (citrus or other) was grown during 1917–18.

NOTE.—The total length of State-constructed barrier fencing is 1,332 miles, erected at a cost of £69,888. It is estimated that about 103,569¼ miles have been erected in addition by private enterprise, at an estimated cost of £6,158,269, and 595⅔ miles by Pastures Boards at a cost of £26,153.

* Although the Rabbit Act of 1901 was repealed on 24th December, 1902, by the Pastures Protection Act, 1902, it continued in force until the date of the first election of Pastures Protection Boards in 1903. The expenditure since 1903 has consisted mainly of payments to the Railway Commissioners for the maintenance of rabbit-proof barrier fences.

Private Bores.—These bores are situated on private holdings, and have been made at the sole cost of the owners.

Water Act, 1912.—By Part II of the "Water Act, 1912," the right to the use and flow and to the control of the water in all rivers and lakes which flow through, or past, or are situate within the land of two or more occupiers, is vested in the Crown. Private rights are abolished, riparian law is simplified, and a system of licenses is established for the protection of private works of water conservation, irrigation, water supply, drainage, and the prevention of inundation of land. The enactment prevents litigation and determines the rights of riparian owners.

Despite the fact that during the year ending 30th June, 1918, the rainfall was favourable, 102 applications were received for fresh licenses, comprising 68 in respect of pumps or pumps in conjunction with dams or other works, 32 in regard to dams, and two respecting races. An identical number of applications were received for the renewal of existing licenses, 60 of the applications were in respect of pumps in some cases used in conjunction with dams or other works, 39 respecting dams, and three race and cuttings. Approximately 1,186 licenses were in force on the 30th June, 1917, and in the succeeding twelve months 78 new licenses were issued and 35 were allowed to lapse, so that there were about 1,229 licenses current on the 30th June, 1918.

Part III of the Act provides for the supply of water, either for irrigation, stock, or domestic purposes, and for drainage, the liabilities on which are repaid to the Crown with interest spread over a period of years, and the works are administered by Trustees appointed from among the beneficiaries under the Act. For the supply of water, trusts have been constituted in connection with (a) 63 artesian wells, (b) 8 schemes for the improvement of natural off-takes of effluent channels, for the purpose of diverting supplies from the main rivers, (c) in 3 instances for the construction of dams across stream channels, and (d) 2 pumping schemes from natural watercourses. The total area included within these trusts amounts to 6,401,435 acres. In addition, 32 trusts have been constituted for the purpose of draining lands and rendering them fit for pastoral and agricultural purposes, and the area dealt with up to the present amounts to 133,613 acres. The total length of drainage channels constructed is 122 miles 76 chains, the total cost being £114,624, or an average of about 17s. 3½d. per acre. The preparation of 6 additional proposals is in hand. These cover an area of 12,314 acres and involve the construction of 13 miles 73 chains of drainage channels, at an estimated cost of £12,133.

Artesian Wells Act.—12 bores have been sunk, watering an area of 324,947 acres.

Public Watering Places.—At 30th June, 1918, there were 775 Public Watering Places, consisting of 411 dams, &c., 104 wells, and 24 bores within Shire Boundaries, and 171 dams, 15 wells, and 50 bores in the Western Division.

Irrigation Settlements.—For some years Irrigation Settlements have been in operation at Wentworth and Hay, and formerly they were under the administration of the Agricultural Department. These areas are now under the control of the Water Conservation and Irrigation Commission.

The Murrumbidgee irrigation scheme provides for the storage of sufficient water at Burrinjuck Dam to irrigate eventually 250,000 acres. The first subdivision was made in July, 1912, and at the close of June, 1918, there were in occupation on the Yanco subdivision 581 farms, aggregating 25,366 acres, and on the Mirrool subdivision 215 farms, comprising 9,337 acres. The lands are subdivided into intensive and mixed farming blocks ranging from 10 acres to 264 acres according to location and the nature of the soil. For water the annual charge is 5s. per "acre-foot," i.e., sufficient water to cover 1 acre to the depth of 12 inches, but the charge is reduced by half for the first year, and is then increased yearly by 6d. per "acre-foot" to the full charge.

The Curlwaa Irrigation Area at Wentworth consists of about 10,600 acres. Ninety lessees occupy 8,410 acres, of which 1,343 acres are irrigable, the balance representing the dry areas held in conjunction with the irrigated lands. Approximately 1,100 acres are under cultivation, the greater part being devoted to fruit trees, including oranges, peaches, nectarines, pears, sultanas, and currents. The pumping machinery consists of a suction gas plant supplying two engines of about 55 B.H.P. each, with an average combined capacity of about 4,600 gallons per minute. The length of the main channels is 4 miles 24 chains, and of subsidiary channels 4 miles 31 chains; in all, 8 miles 55 chains. The Wentworth Irrigation Act provides for leases being issued for periods not exceeding thirty years. Rentals range from 1s. to 24s. per acre per annum; at present the water rate is 20s. per acre per annum. Under the existing by-laws each lessee is entitled to receive a quantity of water equivalent to a depth of 30 inches per annum, with a limitation that not more than 4 inches shall be supplied in any one month.

The Hay Irrigation Area contains about 4,100 acres. Eighty settlers are in occupation, the area leased comprising 1,002 acres of irrigable land, and 2,040 acres classed as dry areas, held mainly in conjunction with the irrigated blocks. Leases are issued for a period of 30 years, the rental ranging from 5s. to 10s. per acre per annum. The present water rate is £1 2s. 6d. per acre per annum. Under the existing by-laws each lessee is entitled to receive a quantity of water equivalent to a depth of 24 inches per annum, with the limitation of not more than eight waterings in the season. Dairying, combined with pig-raising, is the principal occupation of settlers. The crops grown are mostly for fodder. The Area not only supplies the town of Hay with fresh milk, but produces, in almost all seasons, sufficient cream to keep the Hay Co-operative Butter Factory going throughout the year. The cultivation of fruit has not been extensively taken up, owing probably to the distance from market, but sufficient is grown to meet local requirements. The pumping machinery is very similar to that employed at Wentworth, the capacity of the pumps being 4,000 gallons per minute.

‡ The Sulphide Corporation, the only company smelting silver-lead ores in this State during these years on any scale, exported all its bullion as silver-lead, the refining being done abroad; the product is, therefore, classed under heading "Silver-lead," vide preceding Table.

§ Contents of bullion, by average assay, produced within this State.

The Miners' Accident Relief Act, 1900, and amending Acts, which applied only to mines in or about which 15 or more persons were employed, were repealed by the Miners' Accident Relief (Repeal) Act, 1916, which came into operation on 1st July, 1917, and dissolved the Board administering the fund. During the currency of the Fund, claims were admitted in respect of 954 deaths by accident, and 79,887 disablements. For total number of miners, see Table No. 97.

No. 101.—Prospecting Votes—Comparative Table.

Prospecting Vote.—The sum of £7,000 was voted for prospecting for gold in 1878, and in subsequent years, at irregular intervals, further small sums were voted and expended. In accordance with a resolution of Parliament, an amount has been voted each year since 1887, during which year it was confined to searching for gold. In the succeeding year the conditions were amended so as to embrace all minerals.

No. 17.—Imports Oversea, 1917-18.

(From 1st July, 1917 to 30th July, 1918.)

NOTE.—With the exception of United Kingdom and New Zealand, only those countries are shown under each article where the value of import according to "Country of Origin" exceeds £500.

Value of Imports.—The value of goods imported from countries beyond the Commonwealth represents the amount on which Duty is payable or would be payable if the Duty were ad valorem. The value of goods subject to Duty is taken to be the fair market value in the principal markets of the country whence the same were exported, with an addition of 10 per cent. to such market value.

Quantities.—Generally, but not invariably, quantities have been shown in the ordinary trade unit. Where Imports have been declared in packages without an indication of the number, capacity, or weight of the articles imported, only the values have been inserted.

N.E.I. means "Not elsewhere included."

Import Duties.—Duties charged on Imports into New South Wales are collected under the Commonwealth of Australia Customs Act, 1901 (No. 6 of 1901); the Customs Tariff, 1906, South African Preference (No. 17 of 1906); the Customs Tariff, 1908-11 (No. 19 of 1911); (proposed) Customs Tariff, 1914; and the Customs Tariff Validation Act of 1917, No. 6.

Duty Paid.—The particulars entered against the line "Duty paid" represent the quantity or value on which duty was paid, and the gross amount o duty paid. (O.R.), opposite "Duty paid" denotes the quantity or value of articles on which Duty was paid at rates in force prior to date of "proposed Tariff, 4th December, 1914"; other amounts represent values or quantities on which Duty was paid since that date.

Articles which do not show any quantity on which Duty was paid, are to be taken as free of Duty, except where otherwise stated. Free goods also include articles the property of the Commonwealth, or which are imported for the use of the Commonwealth, the State Governor, Foreign Consuls, or various Educational and Public Institutions.

No. 19.—Exports Oversea, 1917-18.

Note.—With the exception of the United Kingdom and New Zealand, only those countries are shown under each article where the value of the export exceeded £250.

The difference between the value of Australian produce exported and the total export represents the value of produce of oversea origin, re-exported.

Value of Exports.—The value of goods exported is the value in the principal markets of the State in the ordinary commercial acceptation of the term.

Exports—Australian Produce.—Articles which were partly or entirely manufactured from imported materials are shown under this heading. The Commonwealth Customs Department does not now distinguish between the produce of New South Wales and that of other States, the whole being classified as 'Australian.'

Quantities.—Generally, though not invariably, quantities have been shown in the ordinary trade unit. Where exports were declared in packages without an indication of the number, capacity, or weight of the articles exported, only the values have been inserted.

N.E.I.—Means "Not elsewhere included."

Ships' Stores.—Goods shipped as ships' stores on board oversea ships have not been included in exports. For ships' stores, see Table No. 20.
